UNIQUE COLLEGE-LOCATION ARGUMENTS.

In some quarters the advocates of Lake City as the location for the Florida University are advancing the argument that Gainesville is not entitled to it because her delegates to both the late Senate and House bitterly opposed the Buckman bill, and thereby opposed the establishment of any university at all. To call things by their plain English names, those who advance such an argument are either idiots themselves, or imagine that all the rest of mankind are afflicted with idiocy. Before the enactment of the Buckman bill the State of Florida already had a university located at Lake City (greatly to its detriment) and five other flourishing schools of higher education. Gainesville had one of these, that from actual results can show throughout the State two successful Elèves in all the business and professional walks of life for everyone turned out by all the other five institutions combined. Gainesville's county delegation to both branches of the Legislature bitterly opposed the Buckman bill because they did not want this school status to be interfered with. They wanted their far-famed East Florida Seminary to be retained, and also wanted the Florida University and the Florida State College and all the other State schools to be retained just as they were.

Now since the Buckman bill has wiped them all from the map and provided for two brand new ones to take the place of the six abrogated ones, Gainesville, being a school-hungry town, wants one of the two. One of Lake City's most ardent friends in the late Senate earnestly and energetically supported and voted for the passage of the Buckman bill, thereby casting his vote in favor of the abrogation of the State University already located at Lake City; the argument can be used much more rationally, that Lake City is not entitled to it because her supporters and representatives advocated the abrogation of a university already established there.

The people of Florida are not, however, to be influenced by such flimsy and specious arguments as these in the important matter of the location of their university. There are some other far more vital questions that Lake City may be called upon to answer before she is selected as the new University town, and among these is the most vital question: Has not the State University, for years located at Lake City, been frequently and persistently humiliated and brought into dire disrepute by having several, if not the majority, of its presidents vilified and charged with acts too foul for print by people of that community; and has not this systematic vilification of its presidents been recently carried by Lake City's county delegate even to the House of Representatives itself?

If the workers for a manifest the same ambivalence would laudable calling, what action in some would give to business. In fact they

The people of Bradford county are beginning to train themselves to drink lemonade and soda.

CANNING FRUITS.

There are many farmers and truck growers in Florida who are now beginning to realize that the canning factory will be a great help to them in this State. If the fruit that is too ripe for shipment could be cured at once it might be saved to the grower and he would be able to realize a fair price for same instead of it being a total loss.

If pineapples could be allowed to thoroughly ripen and then be canned, the goods would soon establish a demand that would command a fancy price in the Eastern markets as well as the Western. This has been already demonstrated.

With a factory for the manufacture of show-chow and pickles, there could be a saving made of much of this truck which is now wasted. Green tomatoes and inferior cukes could be made up into show-chow and every last bit of these crops could be saved and sold at a fair profit, while the labor employed in their preparation for the market would be a small benefit to the community where the factory is located.

The canning factory is what is needed and the capital required to build one of sufficient magnitude should be raised without much trouble.

GAINESVILLE THE PLACE.

If editorial expressions of the Florida press are any criterion of the choice of the people, Gainesville is the proper place for the location of the State University as provided for in the Buckman educational bill. Gainesville has in her favor the most central and most accessible location, excellent moral atmosphere, a very healthful locality, a people that are united and deeply imbued in all educational matters, ready to offer all reasonable inducements for the University. The buildings of the East Florida Seminary are already there, and with some comparatively inexpensive additions will be adequate to the demands. It seems to us that Gainesville can offer more valid reasons for the University than any other city in the State, and we believe the Board of Control will act wisely in selecting that city for the State University.—Titusville Star.

As indicated by reports to The Tradesman of Chattanooga, Tenn., for the week ending June 17th, the industrial development throughout the Southern States continues unabated. In a majority of the new industries established during the week, the capitalization runs into the millions of dollars. Our own State has a good showing, and the report is not complete, as several new concerns have not been reported.

THE PEOPLE ALL

In Chorus Cried, Give Us Newbro's Herpicide.

This word of late has been in everyone's mouth, and many are wondering what the word signifies, though no one has yet been found, who will deny that NEWBRO'S HERPICIDE does the work. Well, for the information of thousands of people who like to know all about a good thing, we would say that HERPICIDE means, a destroyer or killer of "Herpes." Now "Herpes" is the family name of a disease caused by various vegetable parasites. A similar microbe causes dandruff, itching scalp, and falling hair; this is the microbe that NEWBRO'S HERPICIDE promptly destroys; after which the hair grows. Sold by leading druggists. Send Me, in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.
